ARE YOU DEAF? HEAD NOISES?

ALL CASES OF

DEAFNESS OR HARD HEARING ARE NOW CURABLE

by our new invention. Only those born deaf are incurable.

HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY.

F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:

BALTIMORE, Md., March 30, 1901.

Gentlemen:—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion.

About five years ago my right ear began to sing, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely.

I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.

I then saw your advertisement accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain Very truly yours, F. A. WERMAN, 730 S. Broadway, Baltimore, Md.

Our treatment does not interfere with your usual occupation.

Examination and advice free. YOU CAN CURE YOURSELF AT HOME at a nominal cost.

A SECRET SIN.

BY A. M. BELLERBY.

He spoke in those same quiet, gentle tones as if the injury I had done him were of no account.

"I cannot, dare not ask you to forgive me," I went on desperately. "I should not have confessed now, but my mother has written to say she is going to marry a rich man, so she will not want the money. For her sake, not for my own—I would go to prison gladly—willingly; for her sake I beg, I implore you to take your own privately, not to expose my felony."

He did not answer. He had turned his back entirely to me, and I could see his broad shoulders working with suppressed emotion of some sort; but he still kept silence.

Would he blazon all to the gaping world?

I rose from my chair and staggered towards him, taking his hand, I fell on my knees; while the tears—so rare with me—came to my eyes.

I heard a smothered exclamation, and, before I realized what was happening strong arms raised me from my knees and clasped me, with a closeness there was no resisting, to his breast.

"For your mother's sake, I forgave you long ago," he said hoarsely. "I only waited till you should tell me all of your own accord, Margaret, my own love."

The relief was too sudden, too great. His words died away into a far distance, the room became one revolving blackness; but when I recovered my senses and struggled back to consciousness, those strong arms were still round me, and that true, tender face bending with anxiety over me.

"Let me go! oh, let me go!" I said, struggling feebly. "I am not worthy to touch you!"

"I will not let you go, Margaret, my pearl," he answered firmly, "till you either promise to be my wife or tell me you do not care for me."

"Oh, but you cannot mean it!" I said, burying my face in the cushion of the couch on which he had laid me; while the reaction from "the shame of my face which had covered me," and from the depth of misery to the height and the bliss of his love, was almost too great to be borne. "Think, I am a felon!"

"I will think nothing of the sort," was his answer. "I will think nothing but that I loved you from the first moment I set eyes on you."

"Ah, you did not know then!"

"Indeed I did! My cousin wrote to me three years ago saying he had made an informal but quite valid will in my favor, and put it in an old bureau. What impulse moved him I can't pretend to say. The next thing I heard was that he was going to be married; that he had not yet destroyed the will, but that thereafter my share would be very small, and that, strangely enough, both the witnesses to the former one had died.

"At the time of your marriage I had just landed in England, and heard from Miss Hurst by letter the account of your marriage and its attendant circumstances. Pity for the girl who should sacrifice herself so, and all for nothing, made me determine to steal that miserable will—if it still existed—so that Mrs. William Repton and I might share and share alike. I went to Linden court for that purpose—when, after considerable difficulty, I had ascertained the bureau had been sent there—as Henry Cooper, private in her Majesty's Household troops, and found to my dismay that you were there before me.

"My uniform procured for me the privilege of loafing about the place. I was anxious to see you without being seen. And on one particular morning, when it was too wet for the gardeners to be about, by means of the mirrors on the library walls, I saw you, and saw you also burn papers from the old bureau.

"Your almost immediate decision to earn your own living made me first suspect the truth, especially when no will was forthcoming; and your evident suffering later on, together with many other things, confirmed those suspicions. In the meantime I learned to love you with all my heart and soul.

"Now, Margaret, my confession is ended; can you forgive me for spying so upon your actions?"

"And you went down to steal the will so that I might have half the property?" I asked.

"I felt horribly criminal, and hated myself for loafing about, skulking and watching you," he said humbly, as if he had been doing wrong. "Can you forgive me, Margaret?"

"And you were going quietly to let me defraud you of everything?"

"Oh, no! I quite meant to put in my claim later. I wasn't going to let the Crown have my share," was his reply.

"Does Miss Hurst know?"

"Well, I couldn't keep it from her. You see, she knew who I was," he answered apologetically.

"And suppose I hadn't said anything?"

"But I felt sure you would. I felt sure you could not keep it to yourself much longer, and we wanted you to be true to yourself."

"But if I had not?" I persisted.

"Well, then, I should first have asked you to marry me, and then told you who I was."

"How could you care for me—how could you possibly?" I asked.

"Because," he said, "from everything I heard and saw of you, I knew you cared not a jot about the money for yourself. I forgot to tell you, by the way, I knew the fellow who was touching the gun that shot Repton. I heard something about you from him, more from Miss Hurst, and then, when I saw you for myself—Margaret, did you say you could care for me?"

For answer I took his hand and kissed it.

"Care for you? I worship you!" I answered, choking. And then he laid his lips to mine, and they met in a long, close kiss of betrothal.

When Miss Hurst returned to hear our story, her happiness was only less than ours. The way in which they both ignored the wrong I had done was a marvel to me.

By the earnest advice of both my lover and Miss Hurst, I decided to make known none of this "strange, eventful history" to my family. As Godfrey remarked, with apparent satisfaction, our marriage would place the question of the property on a proper basis, since we should share and share alike.

So I sent my congratulations to my mother, and in the same letter news of my own engagement, begging her to keep it secret for the present, since both Godfrey and I decided that at least two years should elapse from the date of William Repton's death before I should again change my name.

THE END.

A Profitable Investment.

"I was troubled for about seven years with my stomach and in bed half my time," says E. Domick, Somerville, Ind, "I spent about $1,000 and never could get any thing to help me until I tried Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I have taken a few bottles and am entirely well." You don't live by what you eat, but by what you digest and assimilate. If your stomach doesn't digest your food you are really starving. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does the stomach's work by digesting the food. You don't have to diet; eat all you want. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure cures all stomach troubles. H. F. PIERATT.

TALL KENTUCKIAN

Regarded as Quite a Show by Unsophisticated Cleveland.

One of the tallest persons that has ever appeared on the streets of Cleveland is "Colonel" William Baker, Portland, Ky., who is at the present time located here.

Colonel Baker measures seven feet and seven inches in his stocking feet. The average person has to look up considerably to be able to discern his countenance at all. Few people can even see over the top of his vest pocket.

Colonel Baker is a member of the order of Knights of Pythias and the Knights of Khorassan. His friends, especially those who have met him at the lodge rooms of one or the other of these lodges, are having considerable sport with him at the expense of well-known Clevelanders.

At a meeting of one of the secret orders Monday evening Colonel Baker, was introduced to a large number of Cleveland people. He was seated in a chair when they were brought in one at a time, and arose slowly in such a way as would astonish the average citizen When seated he is no taller than the average person in appearance.

Joseph Pinkett, of the Gibbons-Pinkett Company, met Col. Baker Tuesday morning.

"I'll give you $25 a week," said Mr. Pinkett to Col. Baker, "if you will come up to my store and be a floor walker."

"That's a go," replied Colonel Baker.

The contract was drawn up and signed by both parties in the presence of a number of persons late Tuesday afternoon. — Cleveland Leader.

Many Wonder.

Many wonder how it is that pin worms and stomach worms get into little children, or how a tape worm, 300 feet long, can get in and exist and grow inside of a man, as it sometimes happens. They may well wonder, for it is a great mystery. However, many now know from experience that Mother's Worm Syrup will rid one of intestinal worms and greatly improve the health after the worms have been destroyed and expelled. It is absolutely a harmless remedy to take, and as it only costs 25c, all should try it who suspect worms to be the cause of their ill health.

Colonel Bryan thinks that several hundred thousand postal cards ought to convince the United States senators that they should vote for their own election by the people—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Can't Keep it Secret.

The splendid work of Dr. King's New Life Pills is daily coming to light. No such grand remedy for liver and bowel troubles was ever known before. Thousands bless them for curing constipation, sick headache, biliousness, jaundice and indigestion. Try them. 25c at J. T. Day, Hazel Green, or S. S. Combs & Sons, Campton, druggists.

Governor Taft's optimism about peace in the Philippines is, perhaps, accounted for by the fact that he is not a military governor. —Philadelphia Ledger.

WE are not to be outdone by the London publisher who has offered Santos-Dumont $20,000 if he can make a straightway trip of 100 miles in his balloon, so we hereby offer a prize of 20 cents to any man who can fly 100 yards from our office door. The prestige of American publishers has got to be kept up if we go broke.

AUSTRALIA has lowered its tariff on metals and machinery, but the stiff-necked worshipers of the god of high protection are still steering the republican party in congress toward defeat by opposing a sensible revision of our tariff.

THEMiners' Union of Ouray, Colorado, insists that the Chinese must go from that vicinity, regardless of official red tape unwound by the Chinese Minister, the secretary of state, and the Governor of Colorado, and our cash says they will go.

EVERYBODY in Washington is not deaf. It has been officially announced that Miss Alice Roosevelt will not attend King Eddy's coronation. The "feeler" put out some time ago was quickly responded to by the people.

THERE is a great big disappointment coming to him if the Emperor of Germany expects to get naval stations in the West Indies in exchange for the general jollying given us by Prince Henry.

SOMEBODY will be selling Secretary Shaw gold bricks next. He actually tried to make a personal inspection of one of the New York docks, in company with two of the local officials.

REPUBLICAN senators are responsible for delay in Isthmian Canal legislation. If democratic senators had their way the Nicaragua canal bill would be in Mr. Roosevelt's hands in 24 hours.

THERE is said to be danger that Speaker Henderson may lose his seat in congress as a penalty for leading the Roosevelt wing of his party in the Cuban tariff fight.

"GOOD morning! Have you done any talking since the last cabinet meeting?" is now the proper salutation to those who have so little self-respect as to remain in the Roosevelt cabinet.

REPUBLICANS in congress are so busy pulling each others hair on the question of Cuban sugar that they haven't had time lately to do any talking about democratic differences.

MR. ROOSEVELT is learning. He has found out that Cuban reciprocity is full of political nitro-glycerine and must be handled with care.

AS A rounder-up of congress Teddy must be written down as a great failure.

GEN. HUGHES told a congressional committee that the Filipinos were like the Boers in one respect—they kept on fighting when they ought to surrender.

THE republicans of the house seem to think that democratic congressman were being allowed too many of the naval free delivery carriers.

FRED FUNSTON has made his debut as an after dinner talker, and his friends should try to get him to confine himself to fighting, if they wish him well.

ROUGH RIDING over the house republicans strikes the boss rough rider as a whole lot harder than charging up San Juan Hill.

While in Lexington the editor of this paper will do what he can toward getting the trolley line between this point and Helechawa, and our citizens, or rather those who live along the line between the two points should be prepared to meet him when he returns and proffer the right of way. Such a road will add very materially to the value of property along the route, and all who own land could afford to give 30 feet through it for right of way. Indeed it would be money to them.

The editor left Friday for Lexington, where he is this week soliciting ads for THE HERALD, and if the merchants of that place are endowed with even ordinary wisdom they will give him a liberal patronage. He may also include Winchester in his itinerary. Business men of both places will find that an ad in this paper is an admiral auxiliary to business, and those who do not invite the people here to trade with them will be the losers.

SUNNY SOUTH

Fifty Cents a Year—Less Than a Penny a Number.

THE SOUTH'S LITERARY WEEKLY

Published at Atlanta, Ga.—Circulation Over 50,000.

The SUNNY SOUTH is the Great Literary Weekly of the South. It is devoted to Literature, Romance, Fact and Fiction, and gives the best of all that is current in its field. Among its contributors the most noted southern writers appear—Joel Chandler Harris, Harry Stillwell Edwards and others of growing fame. Serial stories from Anthony Hope, Maurice Thompson, Sidney R. Crockett, Mrs. George Corbett and Arthur W. Marchmont have appeared, and others are in waiting from the pen of authors of national note. A short story contest brought out nearly five hundred splendid short stories, all worthy a place in The SUNNY SOUTH'S readable columns. Other contests are contemplated that will successfully exploit the ripening field of talent that only needs such fostering to illustrate the wealth that is shy to assert itself.

The SUNNY SOUTH teems with the life of the great south. The genial sunshine warms everything into activity, and the season is never cold enough to check the hand of industry. The paper comes fragrant with the breath of the magnolia and pine, and gives out the very air of the orange, palm and bay. The beauty and pathos, the romance and mystery of the land where the corn stores up the golden sunshine and the cotton whitens in the moonlight, will be given in the well-filled columns of this fascinating weekly.

The subscription price is Only Fifty Cents a year, alike to all persons, agents, newspapers, postmasters and every one else. Clubs of five, accompanied by the full $2.50, entitle the club raiser to the paper one year gratis.

Send on a Postal Card the names of six of your neighbors who would appreciate the opportunity to read a copy of The Sunny South, and one sample will be mailed free. You can get your club of five out of these very people.

The SUNNY SOUTH enters over 50,000 American homes now; and during 1902 is sure to be welcomed in fully as many more homes, as the great weekly feast of good things, the Southern Literary Weekly, whose columns for 1902 will be the most readable of all the papers that come to you.

Catarrh

Is a constitutional disease.

It originates in a scrofulous condition of the blood and depends on that condition.

It often causes headache and dizziness, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, affects the vocal organs, disturbs the stomach.

It is always radically and permanently cured by the blood-purifying, alterative and tonic action of

Hood's Sarsaparilla

This great medicine has wrought the most wonderful cures of all diseases depending on scrofula or the scrofulous habit.

Hood's Pills are the best cathartic.

GREATEST FAMILY WEEKLY

John Cecil was in town trading Tuesday.

Little Virginia Day was on the sick list on Tuesday and was unable to attend school.

John Evans returned home last week from a business trip to Torrent and other points.

W. P. Cecil and wife are moving into their nice property on Indian avenue.—Clinch Valley News.

W. T. Caskey has been suffering with sore eyes for some time, but is much better at the present writing.

INDIGESTION, resulting from weakness of the stomach, is relieved by Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great stomach tonic and cure for DYSPEPSIA.

Congressman W. H. Moody of Massachusetts, was offered and accepted the position of secretary of the navy, vice Secretary Long resigning.

Our friend and fellow-citizen E. F. Cecil has our thanks for a very liberal supply of mountain oysters and what we did to 'em was a plenty, sure.

Tom Magree, who has represented Ball, Warfield & Co., Ironton, O. for several years past, has resigned his position, and is succeeded by a Mr. Hudgins.

EXERCISES IN COMPOSITION

Among Pupils Under Prof. Noah Cisco at The Academy.

Spelling Hazel Green academy, room V, Rosa Coldiron, age 12 year, March 10, 1902.

AMBITION.

There are two kinds of ambition—mean ambition and good ambition. The people who have good ambition will do anything that is hard, but the mean ambitious people will not do anything that is good, but they are always doing mean things. The energetic good ambitious people are the best class; if there had never been any good ambitious people in the world our country would have been in bondage to this day. Who is it in our school that has ambition and grit to stick to anything till it is done, makes no matter how difficult their task may be? The good ambitious people are the kind I like best; no one should like the mean ambitious people; the one who goes out into the dark world by their self intending to make their character high are the good ambitious people. But the one who goes out in the world that does not care for his character will be the mean ambitious people or some may think they haven't any character, they will always be degraded in life. The good ambitious people are always increasing their character; some people have the good ambition that they are striving in vain with an antiquated method to complete with the up-to-date methods practiced along the lines of the rural economy—this is the one to be loved. If all the people would have good ambition about them the country would be in much better condition.

Spelling, Hazel Green academy, room V, Clay Nickell, age 11 years.

AMBITION.

Ambition is the best thing a boy or girl can have. If we have no ambition, we would not learn our lessons, and would not work at home unless our fathers and mothers made us; you may notice every boy that has plenty of ambition about him will learn his lessons, go to work when he come home, and never has to be told to go to feed or bring in a load of wood, or a bucket of coal and his father and mother likes him, and his teacher never has to scold him or whip him for being mean, and the same way with girls when they go home if they have any ambition about them they get supper, draw up water and after supper they wash the dishes, and goes in the other room, gets her books and learns her lessons. A teacher can always tell good boys from bad boys. We will not make a success in life unless we have plenty of ambition if while we are little we learn our lessons well, and so on till we are young men and we will think when we were little boys and the ambition we had about us; we will try to make other boys the same way, and after these boys make a success in life to, you will be very glad that you had plenty of ambition about you then; and the girl that has plenty of ambition about her studies, her lessons, don't talk in school, gets a good grade in all her lessons; if people didn't have any ambition about them they would never get up the work about the house, such as carrying in wood for the kitchen, bringing in coal. And if they didn't work this world would be cold and lonesome; if women would not cook in the kitchen and men would not work in the fields, then they would not have any ambition to work; if you think you can't get your lessons it is not because they are too hard, it is simply because you have no ambition about you, and you think you can copy off somebody else's work, and if you had been smart and learned your lessons, you would not had to copy off of somebody else's work, and get a good grade by cheating, and if your teachers found it out they would give you zero and perhaps give you a licking, and then you would wish you had learned your lessons, and ambition is the best thing.

Repairing Neatly Done

Never thought of such a sign for a medicine did you? Well, it's a good sign for Scott's Emulsion. The body has to be repaired like other things and Scott's Emulsion is the medicine that does it.

These poor bodies wear out from worry, from over-work, from disease. They get thin and weak. Some of the new ones are not well made—and all of the old ones are racked from long usage.

Scott's Emulsion fixes all kinds. It does the work both inside and out. It makes soft bones hard, thin blood red, weak lungs strong, hollow places full. Only the best materials are used in the patching and the patches don't show through the new glow of health.

No one has to wait his turn. You can do it yourself—you and the bottle.

This picture represents the Trade Mark of Scott's Emulsion and is on the wrapper of every bottle.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

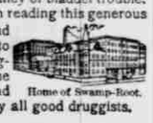

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.

Child Worth Millions.

"My child is worth a million to me," says Mrs. Mary Bird of Harrisburg, Pa., "yet I would have lost her by croup had I not purchased a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure." One Minute Cough Cure is sure coure for coughs, croup and throat and lung troubles. An absolutely safe cough cure which acts immediately. The youngest child can take it with entire safety. The little ones like the taste and remember how often it helped them. Every family should have a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure handy. At this season especially it may be needed suddenly.

H. F. PIERATT.

WE believe that Senator Tillman and McLaurin got exactly what they deserved when they were censured by the senate, but we do not believe that the senate can constitutionally suspend a senator.

The Best Time.

The best time to cure a cough or cold is when you are first affected. A pleasant and sure remedy for sore throat, weak lungs, bronchial soreness, coughing spells, etc., is Gooch's Mexican Syrup for coughs and consumption. Be wise in time and keep a bottle in your medicine chest, always handy for immediate use, remembering the old adage, "a stich in time save nine." It is a true lung tonic and sells for only 25 cents.

WE don't believe there is a man in South Carolina who would hesitate to pledge his life that Mr Roosevelt could visit the Charleston Exposition without being either insulted or assaulted.

Lockjaw From Cobwebs.

Cobwebs put on a cut lately gave a woman lockjaw. Millions know that the best thing to put on a cut is Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the infallible healer of wounds, ulcers, sores, skin eruptions, burns, scalds and piles. It cures or no pay. Only 25 cents per box by J. T. Day, Hazel Green, or S. S. Combs & Sons, Campton.

THE SUNNY SOUTH.

This Great Literary Journal Clubbed With The Herald.

We publish, elsewhere today the announcement of the SUNNY SOUTH, the great weekly literary periodical of the Southern States. Published in Atlanta, Ga., in the heart of the great south, it bears upon it the impress of its birthplace and environment. For more than 25 years the SUNNY SOUTH has been a recognized factor in the field of southern literature. It was established more than a quarter of a century ago as a southern story paper, and was published for a long time as a weekly and then as a monthly.

About one year ago the paper passed under new management, and in less than a year it has jumped from a circulation of 12,000 to 60,000. The first thing the new management did was to make it a weekly publication and to reduce the price to fifty cents per year—less than one cent an issue—and then infuse into its columns all the enterprise and literary ability that money could command or determination secure. In less than a year this remarkable southern literary paper has become national in character and it now has about as many subscribers north of Mason and Dixon's line as it has in the south. Its columns abound in the best current literature of characteristic southern flavor, and no literary periodical published anywhere in the country has succeeded in bringing together as many southern writers of note as has been done by the SUNNY SOUTH.

A striking feature of the SUNNY SOUTH'S development is its introduction during the past year of many new story writers who will be heard from in the wider field of the world's literature. In almost every southern state new literary talent has been developed to such an extent as to put the whole country to talking about the SUNNY SOUTH. A few months ago the SUNNY SOUTH offered very handsome prizes for a series of the best short stories by southern writers, and more than five hundred responses were received. Some of the stories then published in the SUNNY SOUTH have been reproduced the world over. Others are now being published by it from week to week.

The fact that the price of this splendid weekly literary periodical is only fifty cents a year has had a wonderful effect in giving it an extensive field for the development of its plans and purposes. Perhaps no literary periodical ever established has made such rapid stride as the SUNNY SOUTH in less than a year.

Mrs. Mary E. Brayan, whose name has long been associated with the SUNNY SOUTH, has been engaged to take full charge of its Woman's Department. Her services will appeal especially to women readers throughout the country, as the striking charm of her own personality pervades every column of her most interesting department.

The distinctive characteristics of southern authors have always been a great charm to their readers The liberal use of matter by the leading magazines of the United States shows that high regard prevalent for southern literary talent The quaint stories of Joel Chandler Harris in folk-lore of the southern plantations, and the stories by him and by Thomas Nelson Page, Will Y. Harben, Harry Stillwell Edwards and others of those interesting phases of human character so plentiful in the south, are read with consuming interest and are seized upon by publishers with great avidity.

The literary flavor of the SUNNY SOUTH will be far above the ordinary story paper and an examination of one copy will show clearly and plainly to all its scope in its great special field. Some of the most prominent of the world's writers have been listed for special stories for the SUNNY SOUTH during the current year. It is a pleasure to know that the South has at last secured a literary paper of which the whole country is proud.

The SUNNY SOUTH'S growing circulation throughout the Union, and in all parts of it alike is an indication of its widespread field. Its fresh, crisp editorials, social stories from authors of the widest note and growing fame and interesting short stories from every quarter make it acceptable everywhere. It is not a newspaper in any sense, but is devoted exclusively to the field of literature. It will come as a refreshing visitor every week to your home for only 50 cents per year. If you have never seen a copy of it send today for it on a postal card addressed to the SUNNY SOUTH, Atlanta, Ga., giving also the names of six of your neighbors and special friends who may also have this treat.

We are pleased to know that Southern enterprise places this paper in the hands of our people.

RDAD THE TESTIMONY OF TWO WELL KNOWN CITIZENS OF WOLFE.

Mr. Cooper, Hazel Green, Ky.:

I purchased some of the Vitæ Ore of you in the latter part of March, and after taking about a half pint of the Vitæ-Ore Elixer my nerves were as steady as when I was 16 years of age, and I am now past 75. For more than a year I had been trying all the patent medicines and nostrums I could hear of to build myself up, but nothing did me any good until I used Vitæ Ore, which my wife brought me from your house. After using it a week I went out and did three days' as hard work as I have done in 25 years, and I was not more fatigued than I was 25 years ago over the same work. It is the grandest medicine in the world, and I want everybody in the mountains to know what it did for me so they may try it. Hoping every one who has that tired feeling incident to old age will buy Vitæ-Ore of you and give it a fair trial, I remain, thankfully yours for putting me on to this remedy.

JAMES LACY.

I can vouch for every word Mr. Lacy says in the above. I am his wife and bought the medicine of Mr. Cooper for him, though I did not have much faith in it, because we had tried so many things that did no good. I have also used Vitæ Ore, and am stronger and in better health than for years, which I attribute to its use.

THE REMARKABLE OFFER.

THE WEEKLY AMERICAN, NASHVILLE, TENN. (50C A YEAR)

and our paper jointly make the following offer to subscribers: To the subscriber to both papers from whom we receive the correct or nearest correct guess on the number of hogsheads of tobacco to be received in Clarksville, Tenn., from Nov. 1, 1901, to Nov. 1, 1902, inclusive. Cash prizes will be given, divided as follows:

If Received in December, January, February or March $2,000.00
If Received in April, May or June 1,500.00
If Received in July, August or September 500.00

THEN AN EXTRA $500.00 IS SET ASIDE

(making $2,500.00 in all) which will be divided equally among all who guess even within one hundred of the correct number, provided they do not get any other cash prize. One hundred either way allows you 201 chances.

IN THIS CONTEST THERE ARE NO BLANKS, AS YOU CAN CERTAINLY GET WITHIN 100 OF IT.

IMPORTANT—It is distinctly understood and agreed that the Weekly American is solely liable for the payment of all the money herein offered in prizes, and that our paper shall not be in any way held responsible for such or any part of the same. In addition to the cash prizes, each subscriber to the two papers who will add one 2c stamp to pay postage will receive one (their choice) of the following beautiful pictures:
